Maddox Quits, Won't Support Democrats

CHICAGO (AP) — Gov. Lester Maddox of Georgia quit his bid for the Democratic presidential nomination today and said he would campaign against the Democratic party's nominee in the fall.

Maddox left open the possibility that he would support third-party candidate George C. Wallace in the November election. He said he had talked to Wallace by telephone Tuesday night.

Maddox, who closed his Atlanta restaurant rather than serve Negroes, told a news conference his conscience would not allow him to aid "any liberal candidate, any liberal party, particularly the Democratic Socialist party."

"In obedience to God and loyalty to my country I denounce him," he said.

Maddox, who announced his candidacy for the presidency 10 days ago, said he was returning to Georgia this afternoon. Going with him, he said, were many members of the Georgia delegation.

southern edge. Officials made no attempt, however, to use the same tear gas tactics when most of the demonstrators moved four miles south to the Hilton.

There they joined a small demonstration already in progress in Grant Park, just across fashionable Michigan Avenue, and in full view of both delegates and national television color cameras.

Tuesday night's Lincoln Park confrontation brought no signs of the harsh police tactics of the night before, when 21 newsmen were clubbed, or had their cameras smashed, or their notes taken away. Many demonstrators also were clubbed Monday night.

Tear gas in huge quantities, both fired from explosive canisters and sprayed from a truck, was used instead.

The night's casualties included one police car with all its windows smashed, several with one or two broken, a liquor store window looted, display windows smashed in an auto showroom, and 15 arrested.

Police did fire shotguns over the heads of one small crowd to break it up.

Despite official fears, those prone to violence appeared to be a distinct minority in the group of 1,500 that gathered toward dusk in Lincoln Park.

As police lined up on the dark gravel parking area with their backs to Lake Michigan, each voice from the crowd that called for violence was answered by one urging restraint.

Engineer

JOHN TALLANT

LITTLE ROCK — The State Highway Department announces the promotion of four registered professional engineers, all in key positions.

Joe D. Magness, a native of Plainview in Yell County, has been promoted to Engineer of Materials and Tests to fill the vacancy created by the death of former Division head, Henry W. Schneider. He has been with the Highway Department 13 years, all of them in the Materials and Tests Division.

Magness is a graduate of Russellville High School, Arkansas Tech and the University of Arkansas. He is married to the former Bonnie Morphis of Pine Bluff and the father of two sons, 13 and 10, and an infant daughter. They reside at 12 Elmhurst Drive and attend First Baptist Church.

Robert H. Mattox, 42, District Engineer at the Hope headquarters will assume the duties and responsibilities as assistant to the Asst. Chief Engineer in charge of Operations William L. Moore with offices in the central headquarters building here, effective September 1. He is a native of North Little Rock and a graduate of the High School. He attended State College of Arkansas one year, then graduated from the University of Arkansas. He was employed by the Highway Department immediately after graduation as a designer in the Bridge Design Division. Prior to being promoted to District Engineer in 1965 he was in charge of heavy bridge maintenance with offices at the central headquarters.

As District Engineer he is responsible for highway construction and maintenance in Hempstead, Miller, Pike, Sevier and Howard, Little River, Lafayette and Nevada counties. He is married to the former Frances Adelle Smith. They have two sons.

John Tallant, presently Engineer of the Secondary Roads Division, will move to Hope to fill the District Engineer position. He is a native of Glenwood, a graduate of the University of Arkansas and a 19-year employee of the Highway Department. He has been head of Secondary Roads since 1963. He and his wife reside at 32 Sheraton Drive. They have one daughter.

David L. Moore, presently an assistant construction engineer, will assume the duties of Engineer of Secondary Roads, a position which correlates the county road program with the County Judges. Moore, 36, is from Russellville and a graduate of the University. He also came to work for the Highway Department immediately after graduation and has worked as an assistant resident engineer and resident engineer. He is married to the former Bobbie Skidmore, also of Russellville. They reside at 19 Hatfield Drive and have two sons and one daughter.

N. Vietnam Accused of Meddling

PARIS (AP) — The United States accused North Vietnam today of meddling in American politics, and demanded that it quit, Spurning the demand, Hanoi's Ambassador Xuan Thuy accused President Johnson's administration of forcibly suppressing opposition to the Vietnam war.

Thuy's statement was made in the 19th session of the Paris peace talks, U.S. Ambassador W. Averell Harriman called for a start in serious peacemaking with an end to what he described as North Vietnamese interference in American internal affairs.

The three-hour session focused on the issue of American bombing policy. No sign of progress was detected by Harriman.

Wants Change of Vote on Constitution

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller expressed hope Tuesday that the 1969 General Assembly would change the vote on any new constitution from 1970 to 1969.

Arkansans will decide in the Nov. 5 general election whether to call a constitutional convention to draft a new document. The legislature this year authorized the vote by law but set any vote on ratification of a charter for the 1970 general election. The governor wants ratification to come in a special election in 1969.

The governor said he believed that property tax assessment reforms should be included in any new constitution. He added that he believed Joe Burlingame, director of the state Assessment Co-ordination Division, would do as much as possible in the interim to see that existing law is followed.

Rockefeller also said he would probably meet later this week to discuss with Col. Ralph Scott, director of the State Police, the removal of the department from politics.

Three Seek Mena Station

WASHINGTON (AP) — An application by three persons to operate an FM radio station on 101.7 megacycles at Mena, Ark., was approved Tuesday by the Federal Communications Commission.

The application to do business as the Mena Broadcasting Co. was filed by Jack R. Reeves, Earl M. Jones and William A. Reeves.

Three Killed in Collision Near Eudora

EUDORA, Ark. (AP) — A two-vehicle collision on U.S. 65 about three miles south of here claimed the lives of three persons Tuesday.

The dead were identified as Mary Hester, 57, of Eudora, Janie Calvin, whose age was not given, of Grand Lake and Sylvester Wilson, 7, of Eudora.

State Trooper Vernon Watson said the Hester car pulled onto the highway from a side road and was struck in the left side by a car driven by Virginia Murry, 41, of Soudheimer, La.

The three occupants of the Hester car were thrown from the vehicle, Watson said.

Pair Accused in Slaying Confessed

SHERIDAN, Ark. (AP) — A State Police lieutenant testified Tuesday that two men facing trial on a charge of first-degree murder signed confessions that the other killed Ronald Edward Lovelace, 21, a Little Rock taxi cab driver on June 3.

Testimony in the trial of Roger Dean Mosby, 22, of Redfield and Albert N. Williamson, 20, of Little Rock ended after two days Tuesday and the case was to go to the jury this morning.

Li. W. A. Tudor of the State Police Criminal Investigation Division said Williamson and Mosby made statements in which they said they killed and robbed Lovelace, but each said the other did the actual stabbing.

Lovelace's body was found June 10 about three miles west of Redfield.

A pathologist testified Monday that the body was badly decomposed and that he was unable to determine the cause of Lovelace's death.

The defense called no witnesses during the trial.

Plant Struck Over Wages

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Arkansas Foundry Co. and the striking Local 1091 of the United Auto Workers Union has scheduled a 2 p.m. meeting today, its first negotiation since Aug. 12.

About 145 members of the union struck the plant Aug. 20 in a dispute over wages and other issues. Some of the workers, however, had continued to work.

Shortage in Mountain Home Bank

MOUNTAIN HOME, Ark. (AP) — An officer of the First National Bank here said Tuesday a shortage had been discovered in the bank funds.

However, Robert F. Lawyer, executive vice president of the bank, said a former employee had signed a statement saying he was responsible for the shortage and would make full restitution.

Lawyer did not identify the former employee and did not reveal the amount of the shortage.

He said no other person connected with the bank had been implicated.

Strikers Are Ordered Not to Picket

CAMDEN, Ark. (AP) — Striking members of the Machinists Union were ordered Tuesday not to picket the Camden Manufacturing Co., which makes classified ordnance for Vietnam.

Chancellor James Rowan of Camden issued the injunction prohibiting picketing at the request of the company.

Later in the day, V. E. McKimney, a union official from Washington, said the work stoppage was in violation of the contract between the machinists and the firm.

McKimney urged all employees to return to work Wednesday.

About 400 members of the union struck Monday for reasons that were not disclosed and an additional 400 refused to cross picket lines.

Another union official, Ed House of Camden, said the workers could be dismissed if they failed to return to work Wednesday. He said the union could do nothing.

House said there were three grievances, primarily concerning promotions, that had not been resolved.

BRIDE-ELECT FETED WITH A PARTY

Miss Lynda Yeldell of Hot Springs, bride-elect of Larry Thrash, was feted with a Spice-Rice Party on Saturday afternoon, August 24 in the home of Mrs. Ray Lawrence. Summer flowers were seen in attractive arrangements, and wedding bells decorated one table in the entertainment room.

Dressed in a black and white ensemble, the bride-elect was presented a green, yellow, and white rice bag corsage. Guests made rice bags to be distributed at the wedding reception August 31, and each brought spices for the future bride which were presented in a pretty basket.

Mrs. Teddy Jones, Jr. of Alexandria, Va., sister of the groom-elect, was among the guests. The hostess served party cakes and punch in Miss Yeldell's chosen colors, green and yellow. A gift of silver was presented to the honoree.

ENTERTAINED FOLLOWING WEDDING REHEARSAL

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Hill Stallings, Sr. of Morrilton entertained with a dinner at the Town and Country Restaurant Saturday, August 24 following the wedding rehearsal of Miss Mary Ann Baber and Joe Hill Stallings, Jr. The head table was centered with a silver bowl containing Killian daisies flanked by silver candleholders, and other tables were decorated with candles and greenery.

Dinner was served to 31, and the wedding couple chose this time to present gifts to their attendants.

LUNCHEON HONORS

MISS MARY ANN BABER
Mrs. Brack Scenic and Mrs. John Braden entertained with a luncheon on Sunday, August 25 at the home of Mrs. Schenck for Miss Mary Ann Baber and her bridesmaids.

The serving table was covered with a white linen cloth and centered with yellow tapers in wrought iron. A shadow box arrangement of a bride and groom was placed in between the living room and the serving area. Candles and greenery were seen at other vantage points in the home.

Mrs. Steven Bader and Mrs. Joe Hill Stallings, Sr. of Morrilton, mothers of the engaged couple, were among the 14 at the luncheon. The hostesses presented a gift of silver to the honoree.

BRIDGE CLUB MEETS

The Hope Duplicate Bridge Club had 5 tables of players at its weekly meeting Monday, August 26 at the Diamond. Winning couples were: first, Mrs. E. P. Young, Jr. and Mike Kelly; second, Mrs. Bill Wray and Mrs. Thomas Hays; third, Mrs. Comer Boyett and Mrs. Harry Hawthorne.

LET'S TALK ABOUT MOVIES

By VELDA SEAMANS

Tonight at the Dixie — It's "BONNIE AND CLYDE" for four days. Bonnie and Clyde first meant trouble for the law — now, they mean hot bristling screen entertainment.

At the Saenger tonight is "FIVE MILLION YEARS TO EARTH." Thursday, it's Don Knotts in "THE SHAKESPEARE IN THE WEST." You're in for a real laugh treat when you see this one. SUNDAY, ELVIS PRESLEY and NANCY SINATRA come to the big screen with a great dancing, singing, and racing picture, "SPEEDWAY." So, it's fun and laughter this weekend at the Saenger. . . .

At the DIXIE DRIVE IN, beginning Sunday is Paul Newman and Fredric March in "HOMBRE." The second feature will be "FATHAM."

Great pictures have been lined-up for your FALL ENTERTAINMENT. Sept. 8th "SAND PEBBLES." Sept. 18th "THE GRADUATE." Sept. 25th "SOUND OF MUSIC." Oct. 1 "GUESS WHO'S COMING TO DINNER." And many, many more we'll tell you about later, so let us entertain you. . . . Autumn time is movie theatre time. . . .

Births

Mr. and Mrs. Mitchell LaGrone announce the arrival of a daughter on Tuesday morning, August 27 at Wadley Hospital in Texarkana. She weighed 6 pounds, 10½ ounces. They have three boys, but this is their first girl. Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Robert LaGrone and Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Kuehling of Vicksburg, Miss.

Democrats' Grand Dame

If there's a senior stateswoman in Democratic Party politics, it's India Edwards. India Edwards is 73, although you'd never guess it from all the work she can cram into a day, and for the last quarter-century or so she has been an indispensable mainstay of the Democratic Party.

She has held virtually every top post available to a woman in party politics, was nominated for the vice presidency at the 1952 convention, and right now she is charge of women's activities until the close of the 1968 convention.

"We're going to have some meaty stuff in Chicago," she says. "We'll also have some things that I hope will be entertaining and fun, but it won't be all that."

"I think women want to go home feeling that they've not only nominated a winner, but that they're glad to take home some information that will be of help to them during the campaign."

She says that Marge Wild of Chicago and Committeewoman Dorothy O'Brien have some entertaining activities lined up, including a big luncheon and fashion show, a luncheon to honor Women Doers and "quite a number of yachting parties."

Mrs. Edwards feels that women are making progress in politics "about like a snail." "There are more women delegates this time, more every year, and that is good. Some states are coming through wonderfully, some 50-50. And that is a great advance. There are some good women candidates, too, although not as many as I wish we would have."

As for the fall campaign, she says "women have great power in campaigning. Around the country more and more women are campaign managers, and very good they are too."

Mrs. Edwards, married to Herbert T. Edwards of Washington, D. C., mother of a daughter and grandmother of five, worked for the Chicago Tribune for 28 years as reporter and women's editor before moving to Washington.

After President Lyndon Johnson in one of his first woman appointments named her a special consultant on youth employment to the Secretary of Labor, she said: "I'm always for putting qualified women in — if there's an opening, I don't believe in putting a man out."

She served in that capacity for a year and then retired. Late this May she was called upon to take over women's activities for the convention because of the illness of Mrs. Margaret Price. In making the announcement Party Chairman John M. Bailey said he was fortunate to get Mrs. Edwards to do it.

"Few men and no other women I know of have better know-how or wider experience in Democratic Party politics," he said.

"Mrs. Edwards can do it all and do it well."

Mrs. Edwards, who had held the post from 1948-1956, says "This I had to come in and do, because of my fondness for Margaret Price and my loyalty to the Democrats."

Mrs. Price, who had been vice chairman of the Democratic National Committee as well as director of women's activities, and the first woman chairman of the Committee on Permanent Organization, died in July at the age of 56.

Would Mrs. Edwards consider taking over her old post? "Indeed not. Whoever the presidential nominee is will indicate a Margaret Price successor. I was retired before I took on this temporary job and I hope to be retired again, by at least the 30th of August."

But, "I feel we're going to have a good convention."

They're Tops at Convention

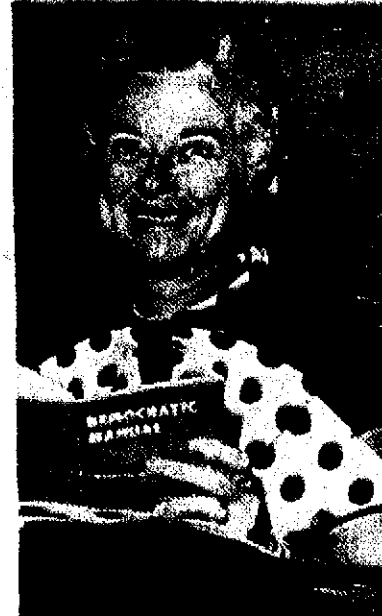

Mrs. Helen Gunsett

Mrs. Faye Broderick

Mrs. Ella Grasso

Mrs. Dorothy Bush

By JOY MILLER
AP Women's Editor

Dimpled, dynamic Dorothy Vredenburg Bush will be calling the roll for the seventh time at the Democratic National Convention in Chicago — which could make it pretty old stuff for her.

But she's nearly as excited as she was back in 1944 when she served her first stint as secretary of a convention. Perhaps it's her unflagging enthusiasm that has made her such a successful roll-caller. Delegates say they find it a pleasure to listen to her call out the names of their states in her soft, clear, apparently accentless voice. Underneath, though, says Mississippi-born Mrs. Bush, is a Southern accent that sometimes threatens to surface.

Since this convention is being held in Chicago, site also of the 1944 convention, Mrs. Bush may have a nostalgic pang or two. She was 27 back then, the first woman and the youngest of either sex to be appointed secretary to the Democratic National Committee.

She likes to say — with a good-natured laugh — that the party was then just trying to express appreciation for the youth among its supporters and now that it's recognizing the more mature party members.

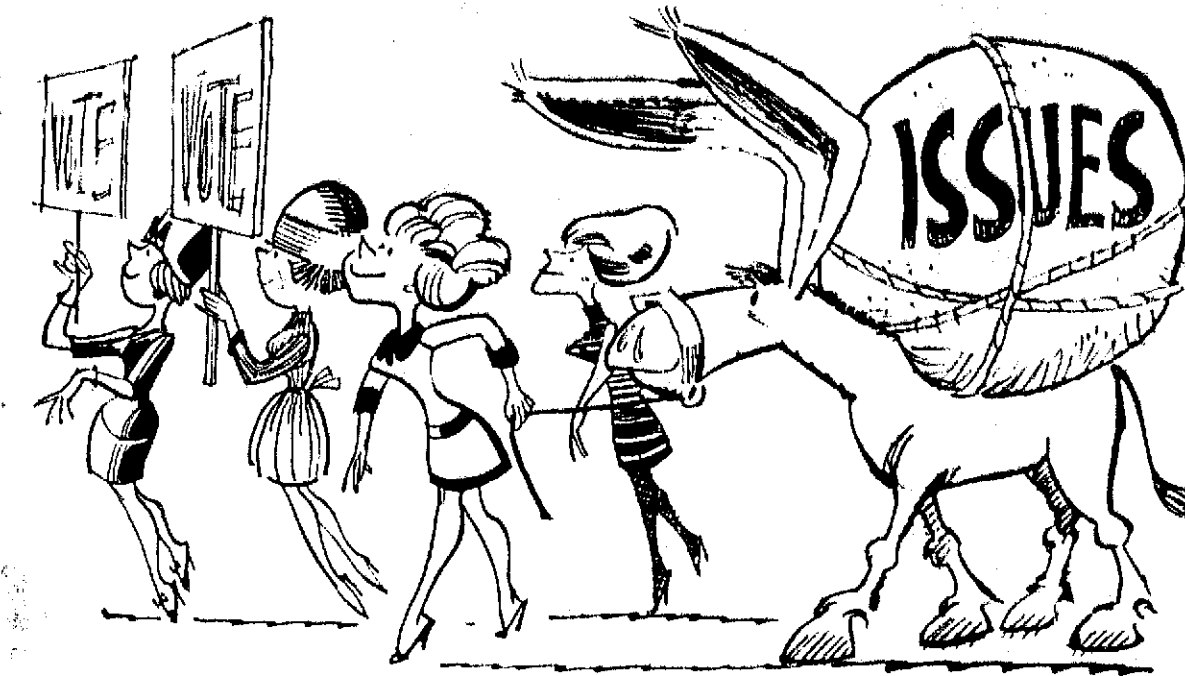

"That's the trouble with getting your age on record," says Mrs. Bush, wife of John W. Bush, commissioner of the Interstate Commerce Commission. "You're stuck with it thereafter."

The pretty brunette mother of three young sons, Mrs. Faye Leone Broderick, of Lincoln, Maine, at 35 is the youngest woman to be co-chairman of one of the four standing convention committees — the Committee on Permanent Organization. The other standing committees are Credentials, Resolutions and Platform, and Rules and Order of Business.

Her husband, Richard, an attorney, is also a delegate to the convention, so the Brodericks will turn up en masse in Chicago.

"Women are taking an active part in every phase of politics," she says. "Men have come around to realizing that without women working for them they'd be lost. Women do all the grassroots work, you know."

Mrs. Broderick was also the youngest woman to be elected to membership on the Democratic National Committee when she became national committeewoman from Maine in 1964. She has had 10 years of experience in party organization and is considered a font of new and workable ideas for raising funds and Democratic membership in Maine.

She started "schools for politics" throughout the state to instruct women on voter registration and party enrollment, organized the first Maine Conference for Democratic Women in 1967 and her fund-raising prowess has won her nationwide admiration.

Her philosophy: "Getting away from tradition, that's what draws the crowds. Staging things like clambakes, Sunday outings with picnics, games, racing, fortune tellers, old-fashioned auctions, an orchestra, pony rides for children, relax, bring the children because we have babysitters; sell tickets and give away prizes. Anything to get away from dull dinners and duller speakers. As long as you keep things fun, there's no limit."

While tradition-minded lady politicians hold coffees and teas, Faye Broderick sets up, for example, a wig party. "A hairdresser comes in and brings wigs and we women get together and blondes try on dark wigs and brunettes see how they look bleached and you'd be surprised how much you can get done for the party that way."

Says the pretty Maine Democrat:

"I'm real excited about my work. I think it's healthy — running a house and keeping busy with other interests too. I try to instill in my women that it makes them more interesting people. I tell 'em 'It's the only thing in life, girls, you can do your husband can't tell you what to do.'"

Other women co-chairmen are Mrs. Sallie Halley of Arrow Rock, Mo., Rules and Order of Business; Mrs. Ella Grasso, Windsor Locks, Conn., Resolutions and Platform; Mrs. Helen Gunsett, Columbus, Ohio, Credentials.

Mrs. Halley who is looking forward to her fourth convention, for eight years served as director of the department of business and administration of the state of Missouri and was associate judge of Saline County court. She says she has been active in politics all her life.

"When you enjoy people you enjoy politics," she says.

She is married to E. E. Halley, in the insurance business, and they have no children.

Helen Gunsett says she thought at first she could sit pleasantly through her committee sessions, since Gov. Richard Hughes of New Jersey is the credentials chairman, "but Party Chairman John Bailey told me when I accepted the job that there were already 17 contests before the committee."

National committeewoman from Ohio, Mrs. Gunsett held the same credentials chairmanship four years ago when the convention was held in Atlantic City. "It was very explosive there and anything could have happened, but fortunately everyone listened to everything that was said."

Mrs. Gunsett, who has no children either, is married to Luther Gunsett, area manager for U.S. Savings Bonds, U. S. Department of the Treasury.

She says she grew up in politics. "It was a table topic," although she has been promi-

ing herself she will start slow- ing up, Mrs. Gunsett is antici- pating her convention chore, "It's a rough assignment," she says with pleasure. "It's a delicate matter and requires the highest degree of responsibility on the part of the committee."

Slim, brown-haired Ella Grasso is serving her third four- year term as secretary of state for Connecticut. She is the moth- er of two teenage children and the wife of Dr. Thomas A. Grasso, an East Hartford school princi- pal, who can't make the conven- tion this time because of acad- emic duties.

"I feel that this year most especially the platform must speak forth clearly and earnest- ly on those matters of deepest concern to the people of the United States," says Mrs. Grasso.

She pinpoints these matters of concern as "the war in Vietnam, U.S. relationship with the rest of the world, the plight of our cities, our concern for minorities."

"I'm hopeful that ours will be a valuable document that will reflect the posture of the party and a platform on which a candidate can run and which he can use as part of his campaign."

Security Tight

CHICAGO (AP) — Security is elaborately contrived to take delegates safely — and swiftly — to and from the Democratic Na- tional Convention site. And some aren't too happy about it.

At a Wisconsin caucus, dele- gates were told they'll be taken in police-escorted buses, travel- ing a different route every day, and traveling fast.

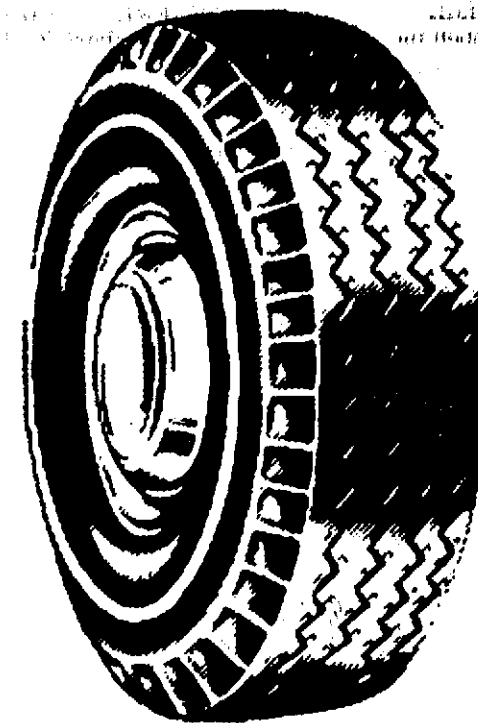

"There'll be green lights all the way," said John Larsen, the party's executive secretary.

Asked one delegate, "Will we be issued sidearms?"

YOUTH ASKED FOR IT!

This column is for young people, their problems and pleasures, their troubles and fun. As with the rest of Helen Help Us! it welcomes laughs but won't dodge a serious question with a brush off.

Send your teenage questions to YOUTH ASKED FOR IT, care of Helen Help Us! this newspaper.

MARRIAGE INSURANCE?

Dear Helen: They insure your house, your health, a singer's voice, a dancer's legs. Why then doesn't some company come up with Marriage Insurance? If the marriage breaks up, and your premiums are up to date, a certain amount would be paid for divorce expense. If the couple remains together then after say 25 years, they would get a lump sum for a second honeymoon.

Doesn't this sound like a winner? — CHARLES OF THE WITS

Dear Charles: Maybe. But I'd rather sink my money in a good mutual fund. — H.

Dear Helen: My daughter is three years old. Her father and I are divorced and he recently re-married. He has visitation rights, but he hasn't used them much. Now, out of the blue, he wants to take my daughter to his new home for a week-end.

I think it will be a traumatic experience for the poor little girl. She scarcely knows her father, and I know nothing of the woman he married. The court says it's all right, but is it? — FORMER WIFE

Dear F.W.: If the court decrees it, you'll have to share your daughter. A weekend visit with her father won't be a traumatic experience unless you make it so, although you might ask that he see her several times first, before an overnight stay. Perhaps he hasn't taken advantage of his visitation rights for good reason: It's pretty tough, playing with a baby under the watchful eye of an ex-wife. — H.

Dear Helen: Do all men resent ironing boards in the kitchen? I put mine up while I'm sewing, or maybe so I can iron off and on through the day. The minute he walks in, down it goes! He says this is sloppy housekeeping while I think it's a practical way to save time. Why put something away when you're going to use it in an hour or so?

On the other hand, he steps out of his clothes and leaves them hung over chairs or in a pile on the floor, but he doesn't consider THIS sloppy.

Aren't men funny? — QUITE NEW WIFE

Dear Wife: Certainly are! So laugh at their little quirks. It's the only way to live with the lovable creatures. — H.

Dear Helen: My boss is a married playboy. He borrows money from me and forgets to pay it back. If I ask him, I may not be recommended for a promotion. If I refuse to lend, likewise. But if I don't, I'll go broke. What would you suggest?

JULES
Dear Jules: I'd suggest a transfer to another department, or a job in a different company, after which you can ask for repayment of your money. — H.

Dear Helen: I got an advertisement in the mail. It said, "FREE, one bottle of blemish remover. Send only $1.00 to cover postage and handling." When I got the bottle, the postage on it was only 10 cents, so you can see it was a small bottle. Isn't this deceptive advertising? — MAD

Dear Mad: Certainly is! Inform your Better Business Bureau. — H.

This column is dedicated to family living, so if you're having kid trouble, or just plain trouble, let Helen help YOU. She will also welcome your own amusing experiences. Address Helen Bottel in care of Hope Star. Copyright, 1967, Inc.

Grand Slam for Pinch, Pinch Hitter

By MIKE RECHT

Associated Press Sports Writer
Those nifty gritty ballplayers who give their all for the team
— that's a ballplayer's ballplayer.

But those guys who pinch hit for another pinch hitter and slam a game winning home run in the last of the ninth — that's a pinch hitter's pinch hitter.

That's Merv Rettenmund.
The rookie outfielder, who has made most of his infrequent appearances for the Baltimore Orioles by coming off the bench, won the label Tuesday night.

Rettenmund, recently recalled from the minor leagues, slammed his first major league home run with one on and one out and lifted the Orioles to a 5-3 victory over Oakland in the opener of a two-night doubleheader.

When the Orioles won the nightcap 7-2 and Detroit lost to the Chicago White Sox 2-1, Baltimore found itself only four games behind the American League leading Tigers.

The Orioles haven't been that close to the lead since June 10 when Detroit led Cleveland by only three games.

The Tigers helped along the lead down by giving the White Sox the winning run in the ninth inning on second baseman Tom Katchick's throwing error.

Off in the distance Boston topped Cleveland 7-1 and the New York Yankees stopped California 2-0 before losing 2-0 in afternoon contests. At night,
Minnesota blasted Washington
5-1 after losing 2-0 in a twonighter.

In the National League, the New York Mets shut out St.
Louis 4-0, Cincinnati rolled over Philadelphia 10-0, Houston rimmed Los Angeles 4-2, Pittsburgh nudged Atlanta 4-3 in 11 innings and San Francisco owned the Chicago Cubs 8-4.

Curt Blefary had given the Orioles a 3-0 lead with his 11th home run in the fourth inning, but he Orioles found themselves headlocked 3-3 after Reggie Jackson, Rick Monday and Sal Landi unloaded solo homers in the seventh for the A's.

Blefary singled with one out in the ninth off losing right-hander Jack Aker, 3-3, and when left-handed Elrod Hendricks was sent up to pinch hit for Larry Haney, Oakland switched to left-hander Warren Bogle.

Continuing the game of playoning, Baltimore Manager
Earl Weaver called on Hendricks.

The 25-year-old right-handed pitcher, making his ninth appearance at the plate this season, responded by belting the first pitch over the left field fence.

He now has a single, two doubles and a homer for a .444 batting average.

Wally Bunker, another recall from the minors this year, took care of the nightcap with a six-hit in his first start since Aug. 7. He is 2-0.

Blefary and Don Buford, No.
2, supplied the home run power in the nightcap, both connecting in the fifth inning, and gave Johnson stole home during three-run fourth inning rally
as the Orioles won their 17th game in 24 outings.

Buddy Bradford, who opened the ninth with a walk and was sacrificed to second, scored the winning run for Chicago when Katchick knocked down Luis Parciolo's hit behind second and brew low to first.

The teams had traded fifth inning runs as Norm Cash blasted his 20th homer for the Tigers and Tommy Davis stroked a run-scoring single for the Sox.

Wilbur Wood, 10-9, who worked out of a bases loaded, none out jam in the ninth, got the victory.

Bruce Look's three-run double gave Minnesota its first runs in 26 innings in the nightcap behind Jim Roland's first complete game since 1963, a five-hitter.

But the Senators grabbed the opener when Mike Epstein's leadoff single in the eighth ruined Dean Chance's bid for a no-hitter, and Bernie Allen followed with his fifth homer. Camilo Pasual, 12-8, allowed only four hits for the triumph.

Rookies Bill Harrelson, 5-2-3 innings, and Andy Messersmith stopped the Yankees on one hit — Joe Pepitone's bloop hit in the sixth — in California's victory after Stan Bahnsen, seven innings, and Steve Hamilton combined on a six-hitter for New York in the opener.

The result left the Yankees with a 5-2-1 record for four doubleheaders in five days.

Ray Culp, 10-5, turned in a four-hitter for Boston's triumph, and Reggie Smith squeezed home one run and Floyd Robln-son singled in two in a four-run third inning.

Dolphins Will Go as Far as Their Youths

By MURRY CHASS

Associated Press Sports Writer
BOCA RATON, Fla. (AP) —
The Miami Dolphins will go as far this year as their young players and their mile and a quarter run will take them.

The Dolphins, who won more games — seven — than any other pro football expansion team in the first two years, believe they can do even better in the American League this season, and they're counting on their training camp routine to help.

For approximately the first two weeks of practice, the Dolphins daily ran a mile and a quarter around the perimeter of their camp. It was part of a new conditioning program instituted by Coach George Wilson.

The routine also included two scrimmages a day.

"I definitely was taking a very big chance," Wilson said.
"But we were lucky and didn't get any major injuries."

What the Dolphins did get,
Wilson feels, is a lot of good,
practical work, something that should help throughout the season.

What they got last year also helped — experience.

The Dolphins are a young team and are in the process of growing up together.

For example, quarterback
Bob Griese, halfback Jack Harper, split end Jack Clancy and guard Charlie Fowler are in their second season, receivers
Doug Moreau and Howard Twil-ley and fullback Stan Mitchell are in their third and tackles
Maxie Williams and Norm
Evans are in their fourth.

Then there's rookie Larry Csonka, who's forcing Mitchell out of a job. Csonka is a 235-pound brute from Syracuse who looks as if he soon will be as dangerous a runner as Jim Nance and Hoyle Granger.

If he comes anywhere near that level, he'll make a good company for Griese in Miami's attack.

The quarterback took over early last season when John Stofa broke his ankle and improved with each game. He finished as the league's fifth best passer statistically, completing 50 per cent of his passes.

Paralleling Griese's progress was his favorite receiver, Clancy.
The All-American from Michigan was third in receiving with 67 catches.

Equally impressive were the records of a pair of defensive backs, Jimmy Warren and Dick Westmoreland.

Bonds Makes Like Young Willie Mays

By DICK COUCH

Associated Press Sports Writer
Bobby Bonds reminds Willie Mays of a youngster named Willie Mays. The Chicago Cubs will tell you the resemblance is frightening.

Bonds, San Francisco's promising rookie outfielder, cracked a pair of homers and knocked in six runs Tuesday night as the surging Giants whipped the Cubs 8-4.

The 22-year-old speedster, recently singled out by teammate Mays as "the guy who could take my place," accounted for five runs with his fourth and fifth homers after delivering one with a bases-loaded ground out.

Bonds' slugging helped the second place Giants, who have won 14 of their last 17 starts, pick up a game on St. Louis' National League leaders, who were beaten 2-0 by the New York Mets. Cincinnati blasted Philadelphia 10-0, Pittsburgh nipped Atlanta 4-3 in 11 innings and Houston beat Los Angeles
4-2 in other NL games.

In the American League Baltimore swept a doubleheader from Oakland 5-3 and 7-2; New York divided a pair of 2-0 decisions with California; Minnesota split with Washington, winning 7-1 after a 2-0 loss; Chicago edged Detroit 2-1 and Boston topped Cleveland 7-1.

Bonds, who set a modern major league record by hitting a grand slam homer in his first game three months ago, gave right-hander Bob Bolin a 1-0 lead in the second inning with his bases-loaded grounder. He greeted Chicago reliever Jack Lamabe with a 400-foot homer, good for three RBI, in the fourth and connected off Bill Stoneman with one on in the sixth.

He is batting .257, with 21
RBI, in 49 games with the Giants.

Jim Hart's two-run single in the sixth capped the Giants' attack, enabling Bolin to breeze to his seventh victory in 11 decisions. Willie Smith, who made his first pitching appearance for the Cubs as a late-inning reliever, tagged Bolin for a two-run homer in the ninth.

Dick Selma scattered six hits to break a personal five-game losing streak and Tommie Agee drove in three runs with a homer and single as the Mets shut out the Cards for the second successive night.

Agee's fifth homer, a leadoff shot in the third inning, gave Selma all the support he needed and pinned the loss on Larry Jaster, 8-11, who has dropped six in a row.

Tony Cloninger blanked the Phillies on four hits, struck out 1 and clubbed a three-run double. It was the Reds' ninth straight victory over Philadelphia and the third for Cloninger, who is 5-6 over-all with Atlanta and Cincinnati.

Fred Whitfield hit a two-run homer, Tommy Helms contributed a two-run double and Pete Rose extended his hitting streak to 17 games with a fourth inning single.

Don Clendenon reached first on a third-strike wild pitch to open the 11th at Atlanta. He took second on a sacrifice bunt and scored the winning run.
Mike Lum's eighth inning homer off Jim Sunning had lifted the Braves into a 3-3 tie.

Norm Miller's homer touched off a four-run third inning burst that carried the Astros past Los Angeles behind the six-hit pitching of Denny Lemaster. Run-scoring singles by Jim Wynn and Rusty Staub and a sacrifice fly by Denis Manke completed the decking rally.

Tennis Open
Has a New Glamor Girl

By MURRAY ROSE

Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Kathy

Harter can't remember the last tournament she won and she doesn't figure to win the first

U.S. Open Tennis Championship

starting at Forest Hills Thursday.

But the willowy brunette from Seal Beach, Calif., shapes up as one of the new glamor girls of the tennis circuit.

Kathy draws the whistles off the court with her street attire mini minis. On this attractive 21-year-old 5-foot-8 California, the mini minis looks perfect.

Has she anything special in mind for the opening at Forest Hills?

"I don't know exactly yet," she said today, "but I'll try and get something attractive. You know we're limited at what we can wear at Forest Hills. But I'm interested in design for tennis clothes and I'll try for something different."

How about her tennis game?
"You know, I feel I'm ready for a big effort," she replied. "I honestly feel I'm putting my whole game together for the first time. I'd like to win a tournament for a change."

The record book shows she won three in 1,677, Cannes, West of Scotland and the Canadian title. She also played in 27 tournaments, most for an American woman, last year and had a .707 average on 58 wins and 24 losses.

Alcindor Works With Negro Youths

By TED SMITH
Associated Press Sports Editor
NEW YORK (AP) — Lew Alcindor, who could now be getting ready to lead the U.S. basketball team in the Olympics, is working instead with the underprivileged youngsters of New York.

"I don't know of anything I've done yet that's been more rewarding," he says. "We know what we've done has worked. It's been that good. It's wonderful."

This is the same man who not long ago said of his decision not to try out for the Olympic basketball team:

"We have a racist nation and my decision not to go for the Olympics is my way of getting the message across."

Alcindor, the 7-foot plus center of UCLA's collegiate champions and already considered one of the greatest of modern basketball players, was a cinch to make the Olympic team.

He is now part of Operation Sports Rescue along with other famous athletes. Teams each headed by an athlete talk to youngsters in small groups.

"Young people idolize athletes," says LeRoy Wilkins, director of the project. "If you can get athletes to say the same thing that religious leaders and educators are saying, they'll listen."

The objectives of Operation Sports Rescue are to instill self-pride in youngsters of the street, to impress on them the value of remaining in school, to underscore the value of independence by acquiring marketable skills, and to encourage youngsters to take an active part in community affairs.

Among the athletes working on the project in addition to Alcindor are Emmette Bryant of the Boston Celtics, Ron Blye of the New York Giants, Tom Hoo-ver of the Houston Mavericks, Bobby Hunter of the Harlem Globetrotters, Carlos Ortiz and Jose Torres, the boxers, Oscar Robertson of the Cincinnati Royals, and Walt Bellamy of the New York Knicks.

"Alcindor has worked almost as much as all the rest put together," said one of the project officials.

Operation Sports Rescue is sponsored by the Mayor's Urban Action Task Force and financed by the Bristol-Myers Co.

Handball

The game of handball, which was introduced into the United States in the late 19th century from Ireland, is now more popular here than in any other nation in the world, according to the Encyclopaedia Britannica.

SONNY AND COOL describes the situation here as quarterback Sonny Jurgensen of the Washington Redskins soaks his throwing arm in ice water. Jurgensen had an operation on his arm last winter and now takes a 10-minute soak after each passing session.

Lombardi Has Become a Movie Star

By HERSCHEL NISSENSEN
Associated Press Sports Writer
Vince Lombardi has become a movie star in a film called Second Effort but Jim Harris and Claude Crabb are starring in a real-life drama entitled Second Chance.

While Lombardi was giving tips on salesmanship in his new venture, tackle Harris and defensive back Crabb were going through reruns with the pro football teams that recently sent them packing.

Harris, who was released on waivers by the New York Jets on Monday, was recalled by the American Football League club Tuesday when nobody claimed him.

A three-year starter at defensive tackle, Harris was switched to offense in training camp but lost out to rookie Sam Walton. The Jets said he will return to defense as backup man for John Elliott.

The Los Angeles Rams of the National Football League dropped Crabb last week but invited him back because Chuck Lamson must undergo surgery on an injured knee.

Meanwhile, Lombardi was out to prove that movies are better than ever, the same plateau to which he coached the Green Bay Packers before stepping down after last season to concentrate on his duties as general manager.

The movie, previewed Tuesday in Green Bay before an audience of executives from 86 Midwestern companies, involves a salesman in need of a victory who turns to Lombardi for advice.

The salesman is played by an actor, Lombardi is cast as Lombardi, a role in which he became stereotyped during nine seasons as Packers field boss.

"He was very convincing," said Lee Remick, a Green Bay sports writer turned critic for the occasion.

Jerry Kramer, a guard for the Packers, has a role in the film and gets off one of the better lines. The salesman asks Kramer about Lombardi and Kramer replies:

"He doesn't have ulcers, but he's a carrier."

On the field, the Packers took a look at rookie placekicker Mike Clemons, recently cut by Cincinnati of the AFL. Clemons booted more than 20 field goals during his college days at Sacramento State.

Kramer is the leading candidate for the job vacated by the retirement of Don Chandler. Fullback Chuck Mercein and defensive end Frank Winkler are other possibilities.

Elsewhere, Philadelphia, hard hit by injuries, acquired fullback Larry Conjar, a former Notre Dame star, from Cleveland for an undisclosed 1969 draft choice. The Browns in turn picked up veteran center Bob Whitlow on waivers from Pittsburgh.

Washington's plans to try Heisman Trophy winner Gary Beban at halfback in Thursday night's exhibition against Detroit were shelved when the former UCLA quarterback pulled a hamstring muscle in practice. He probably won't play at all.

Ex-Razorback Grigger Dies

SMACKOVER, Ark. (AP) — Kenneth Mack Hayden, 48, a former football player at the University of Arkansas and with the Washington Redskins and Philadelphia Eagles, died Tuesday in a Smackover hospital.

Hayden, a member of the Smackover School Board, began his football career at Arkansas in 1939 and went into the professional ranks in 1942, playing one year for both the Redskins and Eagles.

Services are scheduled for 2 p.m. Thursday at the First Baptist Church here.

"Operation Magellan"

The submerged round-the-world voyage of the atomic-powered USS Triton was called "Operation Magellan" because it followed closely the course charted by Ferdinand Magellan's expedition of 1519-21, except that it skipped the Straits of Magellan.

TOO YOUNG to read labels and too inexperienced to know that everything is not meant to be eaten, these children have found a collection of hazardous playthings. Use the safe way for discarding medicines, says the Council on Family Health. Pour the contents down the drain and flush away. Wash the container to make sure no residue remains and discard in a child-proof trash bin.

THE DOCTOR SAYS

Compulsive Gambling Is Really a Disease

By WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT, M.D.

All life is a gamble but compulsive gambling, like compulsive drinking, is a disease. Gambling has ruled the lives of some great men. It was only when through gambling he found himself heavily in debt that Dostoevsky was able to settle down to his writing. Gambling has taken many forms. Even insurance, when first conceived by Lloyds of London, was condemned as wagering. But, fortunately, it has survived as a useful and highly respectable form of gambling. For practical purposes gambling can be defined as wagering on the outcome of a game or event in which ostensibly chance plays a large part.

Lotteries, raffles and bingo are forms of gambling that have achieved some measure of dignity through their use to support various charities and, indeed, most participants in social rather than compulsive gambling. The compulsive gambler is a severely neurotic person. Gambling becomes his main interest in life and, when he is not actually participating, it fills his day dreams.

He does not learn anything from his repeated losses but rather, according to some authorities, he courts these losses as a form of self-punishment and a relief from a deep-seated sense of guilt. He revels in the misery he has caused himself and greatly enjoys a sense of self-pity. No matter how great his winnings, he is unable to stop until he has lost it all. When he is losing, he finds it even harder to stop. It doesn't really matter to him whether he is winning or losing—all he wants is to continue to gamble. He will always risk more than he can afford to lose.

The only gamblers who ever win consistently, day after day, are the professionals, and they do so by resorting to one form of trickery or another. Casinos and one-armed bandits also win because they are rigged to give the owner a certain edge. Statutes making gambling illegal have been notoriously hard to enforce because it is so hard to draw a clear line between social gambling and rack-teering.

Tomorrow's column will further describe the compulsive gambler and what can be done for him.

WORLD ALMANAC FACTS

The first bathtub wasn't installed in the White House until 1851. The World Almanac notes. The tub was ordered by President Millard Fillmore, who was accused by many Americans of becoming a "sissy." It wasn't until 1918 that the Executive Mansion got its first complete set of American-made dishes, 1,700 pieces in all, ordered by President Woodrow Wilson.

Chance to Err Is Declarer's

Benito Garrozzo and Giorgio Belladonna of Italy's World Champion Blue Team are also members of Omar Sharif's Bridge Circus currently touring the United States and Canada.

They bid and play the dummy well but their real forte is brilliant defense. A large part of this defense consists in giving declarer a chance to go wrong in accordance with Parkinson's first law of bridge: "Any time a player has a chance to make a mistake, he may make it."

There was nothing remarkable about Benito's opening lead. Even the Italians open their partner's suit.

South took dummy's ace and played a spade from dummy. His plan was to get around to ruffing his third spade before drawing trumps.

Giorgio rose with his queen and led the three of clubs. South played the queen and Benito followed with the deuce.

The jack of spades was led next. Benito won with his ace and led the seven of clubs. Now put yourself in declarer's position. Your problem is to avoid the loss of both a club trick and a ruff. You know that Belladonna is perfectly capable of leading away from three to a king. You also know that Garrozzo, who had played the deuce of clubs without any evidence that he had a problem, is perfectly capable of recognizing a singleton club lead by his partner and ducking just as he had.

Anyway, declarer rose with dummy's ace of clubs. Belladonna ruffed and the king of clubs became the setting trick.

We don't think much of declarer's play of the club ace. He should have seen that if Belladonna did hold three clubs to the king, he would have been silly to play the suit but the hapless declarer was at the table, where these things are much harder to see.

Farmers Insurance Group, one of the largest multi-line insurance companies in the nation, has announced the winners of its President Council for 1968 and Bill Ellis of Hope, has been selected as a member.

This is the highest honor available to an agent in the Farmers Insurance Group. Members are selected from across the nation, based on over-all production and

Organ Bank in Arkansas Supported

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Harlan Lane, the new board chairman of Union National Bank, proposed Tuesday the creation of an organ bank in Arkansas and the idea drew the immediate support of the head of the kidney transplant team at the University of Arkansas Medical Center.

Lane said that he had been told that 20 years from now the nation's second largest industry — would be artificial heart muscles.

"So I'm so excited about this program that I want to get in it as fast as I possibly can," Lane said, adding that his Harlan Lane Foundation would put $50,000 into such an organ bank.

Lane suggested the bank in an address before the Little Rock Optimist Club.

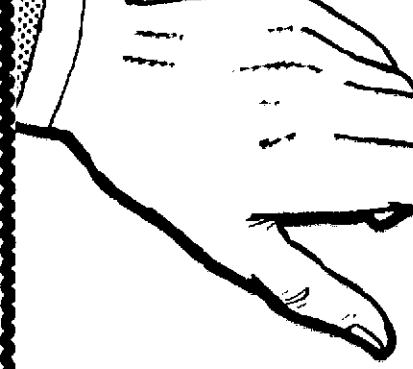

Dr. William J. Flanigan said he had not heard much of Lane's plan but that he was "much in favor" of such a bank.

"We've got seven people out here (Medical Center) with both kidneys removed, waiting for a kidney (that can be transplanted)," Flanigan said.

Flanigan said an organ bank could be useful in helping meet the demand for eye corneas, for bone used in grafts and for other organs.

He said work on possible heart transplants is in the experimental stage at the Medical Center and that he was "sure this will come."

Lane said he was certain that Dr. Denton Cooley of Houston, who has performed more heart transplant operations in the U.S. than anyone else, could be brought to Little Rock to discuss the proposed organ bank.

Negroes Will Offer Own Favorite Son

CHICAGO (AP) — Black delegates are pushing a Negro favorite son candidate for president in a protest vote on the first ballot at the Democratic National Convention tonight.

However, leaders conceded the protest is unlikely to create any major dent in the drive by frontrunner Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey for the party's nomination.

The movement to deny black support to the three leading contenders and cast the Negro votes instead for the Rev. Channing Phillips, a minister from the nation's capital, stemmed from resentment at the refusal of the convention to unseat two Deep South delegates.

Negro Congressman John Conyers Jr. of Detroit, who will make a seconding speech for Phillips, announced the move at a news conference Tuesday night and said he was disappointed in the convention because "issue after issue has been subverted to the cause of conservatism."

But fellow Negro Rep. Charles C. Diggs Jr. of Michigan said he still supports Humphrey and predicted the movement would have no significant effect on the convention.

Diggs said, "I don't consider this or any other favorite son a serious candidate."

Phillips, 44, led a coalition slate backing Sens. Robert F. Kennedy and Eugene J. McCarthy that overturned regular party forces in the Democratic primary in the District of Columbia in May. He became the favorite son candidate of his 23-vote delegation after Kennedy's assassination.

With many Negro delegates leaning toward McCarthy or Sen. George S. McGovern, the protest vote appeared more likely to trim support from them than from Humphrey.

Phillips said, "We haven't given any thought to where the votes will be withheld."

He said the protest was being mounted because "the interests of black people and poor people are constantly being subverted for political expediency."

The convention voted Tuesday night to divide Georgia's delegation among regular forces and an integrated group of challengers led by State Rep. Julian Bond after refusing to unseat the regulars entirely. It also turned back a Negro-led bid to cast out the regular Alabama delegation.

back street in London, where finance ministers from remote nations inspect samples or a secret emissary may be discussing a coup d'etat that means a new president's picture on the currency, De La Rue executives are reluctant to reveal who their customers are.

"The basis of this business is confidence. We cannot disclose our clients' affairs," apologizes one.

The company goes back to 1816 when printer Thomas De La Rue left the channel island of Guernsey, came to London and started making paper hats which, unlike money, promptly went out of fashion. The drawing teacher of Queen Victoria, then a princess, offered to finance De La Rue and he became a fashionable stationer.

He invented the world's first art paper, then turned to mass producing playing cards. His growing company produced the first envelope machine. In 1855 the firm began making postage stamps and by 1879 it was printing all the stamps in Britain. In 1881, 15 years after De La Rue died, the firm introduced the world's first fountain pen.

When paper money came along, De La Rue began printing that, too. By World War II, the company was operating around the world. It shipped Chinese money over the Burma Road, and moved its operations to Burma and India when its plant in Britain was wiped out by German bombs. In an underground depot in England, the company cached a mountain of money printed for the exiled governments of France, Czechoslovakia, Poland, Greece, Belgium and Yugoslavia for postwar use.

Miss Arkansas Surprised With Cake

The Batesville beauty, who celebrated her 20th birthday, told newsmen she was trying not to be nervous but that she was somewhat apprehensive about how the Miss America pageant's orchestra would adapt to her musical style after only two rehearsals.

In New York, Miss Arkansas will tour the city, attend three Broadway musicals and dine at noted restaurants. She leaves for Atlantic City, N.J., Saturday to compete in the Miss America Pageant. The new Miss America will be crowned Sept. 7.

Some Can't Hear at Convention

CHICAGO (AP) — Delegates from Mississippi, Ohio and South Carolina may have to bring in transistor radios to hear what's going on at the Democratic National Convention. Their seats are located under overhanging balconies in the International Amphitheatre and it's impossible to hear the speaker on the rostrum. Electricians hope some juggling of loudspeakers may bring improvement tonight.

One delegate observed, "The only person I can hear is myself."

Money Talks Anywhere

CHICAGO (AP) — It's always said that at conventions money talks. Minnesota delegates swear by it today.

This state with two Democratic presidential aspirants—Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey and Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy—checked in at the Conrad Hilton Hotel and were told the place was filled up.

The delegate charged with housing told the Minnesota caucus he promised the clerk "we would give him $1 for every room we got."

"Just like that we got 150 rooms," the delegate added.

Convention System Dates Back to 1832

By The Associated Press

The political convention system dates from 1832, when Andrew Jackson was nominated for a second term at a Democratic gathering in Baltimore.

Before that, presidential candidates were chosen by the Electoral College or in caucuses.

The present-day Republican Party first tried the convention system in 1856 in Philadelphia. Nominee John Fremont narrowly lost to Democrat James Buchanan.

Franklin Pierce was a "dark horse" at the 1852 Democratic convention in Baltimore. He didn't receive a single vote until the 35th ballot, when he received one. On the 49th ballot, he won, defeating Buchanan, Stephen A. Douglas and Lewis Cass.

The 1924 Democratic convention lasted the longest of any — 14 days and 103 ballots. John Davis broke the deadlock between William G. McAdoo and Alfred E. Smith. He lost the election to incumbent Calvin Coolidge.

Settled 24 Hours Ago, Says McCarthy

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
What major political figures at the Democratic National Convention are saying:

"I think it was probably settled more than 24 hours ago," Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy, indicating in a copyrighted Knight Newspapers interview that Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey may have the nomination wrapped up.

"It is very apparent that a vast, vast majority of them will support the vice president," Texas Gov. John B. Connally releasing his state's delegates as leader of a parade of Southern favorite sons endorsing Humphrey.

"If he were not assassinated, the position that he and I represent would have been the one that dominated this convention in Chicago today," McCarthy, on fellow Vietnam war critic Sen. Robert F. Kennedy.

"I did not come here to repudiate the President of the United States," Humphrey on Vietnam.

"In the last analysis, this is their war," Sen. George S. McGovern, quoting the late President Kennedy on South Vietnam's responsibility in the fighting.

"No man on this earth is working harder to bring peace in Vietnam, no man wants peace more earnestly than Lyndon Johnson. Happy birthday, Lyndon Johnson—wherever you are," Convention Chairman Rep. Carl Albert of Oklahoma.

Chicago Hit by Taxi Strike

CHICAGO (AP) — Strikes have taken 3,666 taxicabs off Chicago streets and halted 70 per cent of the 2,464 buses—but inconvenience was at a minimum for those at the Democratic National Convention.

Party leaders chartered 150 buses and also hired 270 autos for the VIP's. News media also beat the transportation snafu by renting cars and limousines for pickups at hotels for the convention site.

Saigon Again Target of Red Rockets

By GEORGE MCARTHUR
SAIGON (AP) — American air cavalrymen battled sizable enemy force in the jungled infiltration corridor northwest of Saigon today while inside the capital Viet Cong rockets fell for the third time in two months, killing three civilians and wounding five.

U.S. headquarters said a stiff fight was under way 34 miles northwest of the South Vietnamese capital and that so far 44 enemy soldiers had been killed. Jets, helicopter gunships and artillery were supporting the troops of the 101st Air Cavalry Division, who were battling in sweltering heat in an area of flooded rice paddies and eroded jungle just above a main highway leading to Saigon.

The battle began slowly Tuesday afternoon, slackened during the night as flareships lit the darkness and grew in pitch again today.

The size of the enemy force was not known, but the number of casualties and the tempo of the fighting indicated it was a sizable unit that may have been working toward Saigon for the third major enemy offensive of the year which the U.S. Command is still expecting. Increasing numbers of Viet Cong and North Vietnamese are known to be maneuvering in the north-west corridor from the Cambodian border to Saigon, 75 miles away.

The rocket attack on Saigon was the third since Gen. Creighton Abrams assumed command of U.S. forces in mid-June and ordered massive efforts to secure the city after a period of daily rocket barrages against the capital.

Near midnight Tuesday, infantrymen of the U.S. 199th Light Infantry Brigade spotted the flame trails of five 107mm rockets streaking toward Saigon.

American howitzers opened up on the enemy firing positions but the results were not known. The enemy gunners were firing from a maximum range of about seven miles from the marshes of the Rung Sat special zone, a wasteland.

Who Needs Mail?

An irrepressible optimist of our acquaintance is not the least perturbed over the pending curtailment of Saturday mail service. "I don't get anything much but bills on Saturday anyway," he said, "and I'd just as soon they keep those until Monday. Or throw them away."

He went on to say that, by the same reasoning, he wouldn't be saddened by cutting off Fridays, too. "Matter of fact," he continued, "warming to the idea that no-mail-is-good-mail, 'one delivery a week would suit me fine.'" Proving the truth of a new axiom: The federal government can make all of the people unhappy some of the time, some unhappy all of the time, but not all unhappy all of the time.

There was one stipulation to our friend's welcome reception of reduced postal service, however. It should apply also, he said, to his creditors so that his checks would be as slow being received as their bills are, thus providing an automatic delay in bank account depletion. And what could be fairer than that? — Montgomery (Ala.) Advertiser

Youths Protest But Most Czechs Heed Plea of the Leaders

By PETER REHAK
Associated Press Writer
PRAGUE (AP) — Despite youthful protests and widespread resentment, most Czechoslovaks appeared today to be heeding their leaders' pleas not to provoke the occupation troops as the Prague regime began cutting back its liberalization program to meet Moscow's demands.

A thousand youths demonstrated in Prague Tuesday night against their government's agreement to the stationing of Soviet troops in the country and the curtailment of the new freedoms.

"We do not want a compromise! We want to know the truth!" they shouted.

Some underground radio stations, broadcasting from secret locations, demanded that the accord be rejected.

"We refuse to recognize the agreement," the broadcasts said. "Let us not be humiliated or knuckled under."

A crowd in Prague's Wenceslas Square tore down pictures of the reformist leaders who since January had led the country away from 20 years of Stalinist-type rule but now have to reimpose restrictions under the pressure of 350,000 Soviet bloc occupation troops.

But along with these outbursts, the reaction of many others was one of angry resignation. An occasional shot was heard in Prague during the night, but on the whole the city was quiet.

Securities Firm Charged With Fraud

By TOM STEWART
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — The Securities and Exchange Commission has leveled fraud charges against Wall Street's biggest securities firm on grounds that it leaked a big-money secret only to certain major investors.

The regulatory agency set no date Tuesday when it announced hearings would be held on charges by its staff against the nation's biggest and best known broker-dealer, Merrill Lynch, Pierce, Fenner & Smith.

Nine officers and five salesmen of the firm, as well as 15 institutional investors—the alleged receivers of the hot tip from Merrill Lynch—also were called on the carpet.

The investors included the Madison Fund and Dreyfus Corp., top mutual funds.

"We are convinced that none of our people acted wrongfully and you can be sure we will defend our position vigorously," Merrill Lynch said in a statement issued in New York.

John Haire, chairman of Anchor Corp., into which Investors Management Co., one of the cited firms, was consolidated recently, said:

"To the best of our knowledge, we did not receive any nonpublic information regarding Douglas Aircraft from Merrill Lynch which was not available to us from other sources."

According to the SEC, Merrill Lynch was helping Douglas Aircraft Co. prepare a bond issue when it learned the big plane-builder's earnings, contrary to earlier optimistic reports, were

Arkansans Going for Humphrey

By JOHN R. STARR
Associated Press Writer
CHICAGO (AP) — Arkansas supporters of Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey were predicting today he will get at least 22 of the state's 33 votes as the Democratic National Convention delegation prepared for its first caucus on presidential hopefuls.

Balloting for the presidential nomination is scheduled tonight and Humphrey has a clear lead over a field which includes Sens. Eugene J. McCarthy of Minnesota and George S. McGovern of South Carolina and Gov. Lester Maddox of Georgia.

Delegates' control 31 of the 33 votes and they will be apportioned according to the percentage each candidate receives at the caucus in which all 54 delegates and 31 alternates are eligible to vote.

Jim Pruden Announces Candidacy

The Star has been authorized to announce the candidacy of James E. Pruden Jr. for the Arkansas House of Representatives subject to action of the General Election in November. Mr. Pruden, running as a Republican, issued the following statement to the voters of Hempstead County:

"This is a vital election year for our county, state, and nation. In this interest, I take pleasure in announcing my candidacy for the office of Representative to the Arkansas State Legislature from Hempstead County.

"By way of introduction, my name is James E. Pruden, Jr., but my friends call me Jim. I hope you will feel free to do the same. I am 43 years old, and my wife is the former Jerri Day of Decatur, Mississippi. We are the parents of four children: Janet, 20, and Jeanne, 17, both graduates of Hope High School; twins Jimmy and Jerry 15, currently enrolled there.

"I have a B.S. in agriculture from Kansas State University, have been an independent farmer for nine years, and served in the European Theater during World War II. I am a member of the First Methodist Church of Hope.

"I'm a cop, Mac. I appreciate your getting me to the station in time to keep me from being bawled out by the sergeant, but I'm afraid I'll have to give you a ticket for speeding—and another one for going through the last red light. You know the rules. If you think I'm being unfair, you can always take it up with the Supreme Court—everybody else does."

Police Get Tough With Rioters

By AUSTIN SCOTT
Associated Press Writer
CHICAGO (AP) — About 800 National Guard troops surrounded the Democratic National Convention headquarters hotel today as 2,500 antiwar demonstrators defied a city law that closes parks from 11 p.m. to 4 a.m.

Deputy Police Supt. James Rookford said the guardsmen took over protection of the Conrad Hilton Hotel only because many of his police had been on duty 15 to 17 hours, and were tired.

But it was obvious that city officials were worried about the presence of hippies and the peace demonstrators, most of whom had been routed from Lincoln Park with clouds of tear gas just after midnight, because they defied the same law.

Three-hundred police won the "battle of Lincoln Park," and took firm possession of their trash-littered battlefield by stationing blue-helmeted men every few hundred feet along its

Condition of Ike Could Change Fast

WASHINGTON (AP) — Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower's doctors are tempering their most optimistic report with a warning that "this favorable trend is capable of reversing at any time."

Medical bulletins Tuesday said the 77-year-old general is still experiencing the irregular extra beats described as heart irritability.

But the reports said the optimism was based on the fact that Eisenhower has undergone no serious heart fluttering—called ventricular fibrillation—since severe episodes Saturday.

The afternoon and evening bulletins Tuesday said there was no change from the day's first which said:

"In so far as is possible in the setting of Gen. Eisenhower's still critical condition, his physicians have expressed a note of cautious optimism."

In the past doctors had, at one time or another, used the words "favorable" and "encouraging." They described the former president's condition as "encouraging" Friday, the day before the most recent onslaught of serious heart fluttering.

The doctors said Tuesday's irregular heartbeats were occurring "to a varying degree."

Doctors said in answer to reporters' questions that it is impossible to tell when Eisenhower will cease to be considered critical.

He has suffered four heart attacks in less than four months, the first coming during a vacation in Palm Springs, Calif., April 29.

Eisenhower has had seven heart attacks, the first in 1955. Statistics show few men survive three, although Eisenhower doctors say new techniques are changing this.

The medical reports say Eisenhower is taking meals in his bed.

"Despite his long period of confinement in bed, the general's spirits remain remarkably good," said a bulletin Tuesday.

Doctors have made futile attempts to prod Eisenhower's heart with an electronic pacemaker but have been more successful controlling the heartbeat with electric shocks applied to his chest exterior and with drugs.

Life of Taxi Driver Not Easy and Remarks He Hears Are Worse

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP) — Remarks that a taxi driver gets tired of hearing:

"Can you change a $20 bill? Sorry, it's the smallest I've got on me."

"This is a hold-up. Don't give us any trouble. Just pull over to the curb like a nice fellow, and fork over the cash."

"Please double park here while I run into this department store and take back a dress I bought last week. It'll only take me a minute at the most."

"Never mind trying to give me the scenic ride, I know the city. Just take me there the quickest way."

"Why are we going so slow? You haven't got into a funeral procession by mistake, have you?"

"We're just a couple of lonely sailors, Mac, fresh off our ship. You like to do your patriotic duty, don't you? Well, then, how about taking us to a bar where we can meet a couple of patriotic chicks?"

"I see by the identity card on your dashboard that you are Herman Pfeifferbaum. I'm Jack Gassaway—in life insurance. While we're stuck in traffic here, why don't I show you a new policy that'll enable you to retire from this kind of life at 62?"

"I wanna go home. Is this cab taken?"

"Step on it, Herman. If you

Gibson's New Discount Center Opens Here at 9 a.m. on Thursday

Jack Parker
Manager of Hope Store

JACK PARKER

Gibson's Discount Center will open here Thursday, August 29 at 9 a.m. The new firm is located on West Third Street in the building formerly occupied by Safeway Food Store.

Residents of Hope and area are invited to the grand opening of this new store. The store hours are from 9 a.m. to 7 p.m. daily.

Jack Parker will be manager of the new store. Mr. Parker comes to Hope from McAllister, Okla. but is originally from Fayetteville. He has been with Gibson's for six years.

Mr. Parker is married and has two children, Steve and Melissa. They are Baptists. His hobbies include hunting fishing and golf.

LARRY CHURCH

Assistant manager of the new store is Larry Church. Mr. Church is a native of Hot Springs but comes to the Hope store from Texarkana, Texas. He and Mrs. Church are members of the Church of God.

Ed. Howard Is Vice President of Co.

ED HOWARD

Ed Howard, vice-president of the Gibson Stores, was born in Hot Springs, Arkansas. He lived most of his life in Greenville, Texas, and graduated from Greenville High School in 1955.

He graduated from Abilene Christian College with a degree in business administration and did graduate work in political science at Southern Methodist University and was listed in "Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities."

He is co-owner with his father, V.E. Howard, and his brother, Jasper Howard, of Gibson Discount Centers in Texas, Arkansas and Oklahoma.

Ed received his sales training at the Howard Jewelry Store in Greenville and as manager of the Gibson Discount Center in Texarkana. As vice-president he is now in charge of store operations, handles

V. E. HOWARD

Gibson's V.E. Howard Has Rated Title of Builder Since Age 19

V. E. Howard has been a builder since he was 19—a builder in business and in religion.

His first business experience was as a salesman for J.C. Penney Company, while in high school. After graduating from Byrd High, he was employed by the Melville Shoe Corporation and at the age of 19 was the manager of the Thom McAnn Shoe Store in Corsicana. He resigned his position with the shoe corporation to enter college.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard moved to Greenville in 1939, when he became minister of the Johnson Street Church of Christ. All three children began their first day in school in Greenville and graduated from Greenville High.

While a resident of Greenville 25 years, he was active in religious and civic work. He was a member of the Lions Club, Kiwanis Club, Chamber of Commerce, and president of Dads Club.

Howard began his own business career 26 years ago in Greenville, Texas, with just one showcase of jewelry.

Since that beginning, in more recent years, he and his sons have acquired 17 Gibson's Discount Stores.

As the jewelry business increased W.L. and Alton, two of his brothers, became associated with V. E. Howard by opening a second jewelry store in Monroe, Louisiana in 1946.

Howard Brothers, a Tiffany

son stores, including the opening of new stores, and oversees purchasing departments for Gibson Wholesale Distributors, which has responsibility for the selection and purchase of merchandise offered in all their Gibson stores.

He is vice-president of Gibson Wholesale Distributors, Consolidated Leasing Corporation, Ark-La-Tex Printers and Publishers, and Howard Foundation.

Jasper Howard Is the Manager of All Stores

Jasper S. Howard, general manager of all Gibson Stores, was born in Monroe, Louisiana. During his boyhood, the family lived in Greenville, Texas, and he graduated from Greenville High School in 1950.

He is a graduate of Abilene Christian College with a degree in business administration. He attended University of Heidelberg in Germany while serving in the U. S. Army in the personnel department for two years.

Howard has been associated with the retail business since childhood, as his father has owned and operated a jewelry store most of his life. He was manager of Howard's Jewelers in Greenville when their first Gibson Discount Store opened in Texarkana. He later became manager of the Gibson Store in Texarkana and has led in the progress of their discount merchandising enterprise as general manager of the stores which he, his brother, Ed, and his father own.

Jasper Howard moved to Texarkana from Fort Smith, Arkansas, in 1965 when the general

THIS I BELIEVE:
"We must have law and order.

"We must have no favored few because of position, wealth, or any other reason.

"We must have representation that will reflect the wishes of the majority of Hempstead County's citizens.

"We must have efficiency in our government.

"We must stop waste in our governmental operations.

"We must be willing to study new methods and ways of doing things, and be willing to accept changes where they are for the total good.

"We must continue to improve our educational programs and facilities.

"We must acknowledge and accept that we have duties to be participating citizens in the maintenance of our government to preserve the American way of life.

"We must study the candidates and the issues and make our decisions based on facts and abilities.

I PLEDGE:

"To represent all the citizens of Hempstead County impartially.

"To send weekly reports of legislative activities and progress to the Hope Star and KXAR.

"To be available for advice as to the wishes of Hempstead County, in so far as the legislative schedule will permit.

"To make sure that Hempstead County is not passed over when improvements in state services are made.

"To work with the Arkansas Industrial Development Commission to get our fair share of new industry for Hempstead County.

"To make sure that we get the benefits that do, indeed, make this, our county and state, the "Land of Opportunity."

Colony Opening Set Oct. 1

CONWAY, Ark. (AP) — Charles E. Acuff of Conway, director of the state Children's Colony here, said Tuesday that plans are to open the $1.4 million Arkadelphia unit of the colony on Oct. 1.

H.B. Norsworthy Is Supervisor of All Howard-owned Stores

H. B. Norsworthy is general supervisor of all the Howard-owned Gibson Stores.

He has more than 30 years of experience in management and store supervision for two of the nation's largest chain stores. He helped to open more than 50 new stores for national retail organizations before becoming associated with the Howards in their Gibson Discount Store operations.

"Norsworthy's wide experience in management and store supervision enables him to see that stores are operated more efficiently and that Gibson customers get the very best for their money," V. E. Howard said. "His knowledge of quality merchandise and experience in personnel management make a most valuable contribution to the successful operation of the chain of stores."

Norsworthy maintains an office in the general Gibson offices in Texarkana, but he spends much of his time visiting the Gibson stores owned by the Howards. He shares the great responsibility of purchasing millions of dollars in merchandise from the manufacturers for the Howard-Gibson chain.

He travels extensively in the company plane and, before employing a full time pilot, he piloted their plane.

Herbert R. Gibson, Sr. Founder of Stores and Chairman of Board

Herbert R. Gibson Sr., founder of Gibson's Discount Stores and chairman of the board, was born September 16, 1901, at Berryville, Arkansas.

He spent his early childhood on the farm and attended a rural school near Claremore, Oklahoma, where his family was neighbor to the family of famed Will Rogers.

Gibson earned his first money tending livestock his father gave him "to learn to make a living," and began "trading" when barely in his teens. At 14 he was buying furs for St. Louis Fur Company and at 17 he opened a barber shop catering to women and children, at that time not readily welcomed by most barbers. He had four such shops in Wichita, Kansas, when the end of the boyish bob ruined his business.

His next venture was Gibson Products Company, wholesalers, opened in Little Rock, Arkansas, in 1932. Despite the depression, his business prospered, and main in bad shape. The SEC version of what followed is that this word passed through the Merrill Lynch personnel to a chosen few investors and that immediately thereafter these began to sell off their holdings in Douglas in the expectation that its value was about to drop.

Meanwhile, the regulatory agency said, other Douglas shareholders were left in the dark—indeed, Merrill Lynch continued to sell Douglas to anyone who wanted to buy, the SEC said.

The dumping lasted half a week—until June 24, when Douglas publicly announced it might be faced with a no-profit year.

During the unloading, the SEC said, the large investors it has cited cleared their portfolios of 190,000 shares of the unwanted stock. An informed source said these shares sold for some $4.5 million more than they would have brought if traded at the price that prevailed June 29.

To reward Merrill Lynch for sharing the secret with them, the SEC said, the favored customers, when making subsequent large transactions with other firms, would direct that the commissions be split, part going to Merrill Lynch.

In Wall Street parlance, this is a "give up," a practice the SEC has already drawn a bead on in hearings it opened in July. The New York Stock Exchange, formerly a defender of give ups, announced recently it was prepared to see them banned.

Merrill Lynch personnel cited were Winthrop Lenz, chairman of the executive committee; Gillette K. Martin, senior vice president; seven vice presidents and five salesmen.

The institutional investors cited included Fairfield Partners; J. M. Hartwell & Co.; J. M. Hartwell & Co. Inc.; Hartwell Associates; Park Westlake Associates; Van Strum & Towne, Inc.; Fleschner Becker Associates; A. W. Jones & Co.; A. W. Jones Associates; City Associates; Burden Investors Services and William A. M. Burden & Co.

CHICAGO (AP) — Betty Funn picked her wedding dress to wear for her five-minute speech Tuesday night before the Democratic National Convention.

The white dress with brown and black dots was what she wore when she married television executive Leslie Midgely not long after her appointment by President Johnson as special assistant for consumer affairs.

CHICAGO (AP) — The Hubert H. Humphreys almost forgot to send off that birthday telegram to President Johnson Tuesday.

The vice president's wife, Muriel, was asked at a luncheon whether greetings had gone to LBJ, celebrating his 60th at the Texas White House.

"Oh, gosh, I forgot to remind Hubert of that," she replied. The happy birthday wishes were dispatched within the hour.

CHICAGO (AP) — A long-haired hippie in sandals, slightly tattered clothes and covered with dirt paraded Tuesday in downtown Chicago carrying a McCarthy for President sign that also carried the message, "A breath of fresh air."

CHICAGO (AP) — The International Amphitheatre is air-conditioned but a lot of the windy talk under the glaring television lights warm things up considerably for delegates and guests.

So there's quite a rush for the soft drinks, for which no ice is supplied.

"There's no ice in the whole building," said the pretty gal dispensing the drink. "They're afraid that people might throw the ice at the delegates."

Everybody Is Seated by Convention

By GAYLORD SHAW
Associated Press Writer
CHICAGO (AP) — The Democratic National Convention has wrapped up two days of hectic and often bitter floor fights over credentials by ratifying a Georgia seating compromise which triggered a walkout by about a third of that state's delegations.

The convention also dealt Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy's forces twin setbacks by rejecting McCarthy-based attempts to unseat regular delegations from Alabama and North Carolina.

And before a sudden adjournment early today, the convention approved creation of a special subcommittee to propose reforms in delegate selection procedures—and this find ways to avert credentials disputes like the ones that troubled this year's convention.

The Georgia compromise, supported by Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey, was adopted on a voice vote. It seated all members of the regular delegation and a slate headed by Negro State Rep.

But about 20 of the 64 regulars refused to sit alongside Bond's slate. They pushed their way off the convention floor, with one saying "We're going home."

A short time later, Gov. Lester Maddox said he had called upon State Democratic chairman James Gray, his staff and the Georgia regulars "to vacate their places in the assembly."

Maddox, who with Gray had selected the regular delegates, resigned from the Georgia delegation a day earlier. But he said he still is a candidate for the Democratic presidential nomination.

Georgia cast separate votes on later roll calls—one by the Bond slate and the other by the remaining regulars.

The Alabama challenge was pressed by a group led by Huntsville dentist John Cashin Jr., who contended the state's regulars were a tool in former Alabama Gov. George Wallace's third party presidential bid.

Gov. Richard J. Hughes, Credentials Committee chairman, said Alabama's regulars had been required to sign a pledge not to support the nominee of another party. "Nobody would be happier if this certified delegation were unseated, than a man named George Wallace," he said.

The convention then turned down the Alabama challenge on a 1,607 to 881 1/2 roll call vote.

A lopsided voice vote disposed of the North Carolina challenge. It had been brought by a group headed by Reginald Hawkins, unsuccessful candidate for governor this year. Hawkins' group sought to add 10 1/2 votes to the 3 1/2 votes held by Negroes in North Carolina's 59-vote delegation.

Also ratified on voice votes were the credentials committee's rejection of challenges involving Louisiana, Tennessee, Wisconsin, Michigan and Indiana delegations.

CHICAGO (AP) — The anticipated floor fight over a Vietnam war policy broke open with even more than expected fury in the early morning hours today and forced the Democratic National Convention into an abrupt adjournment.

After meeting for nearly seven hours, the weary delegates got to the proposed party platform, which recommends settling the Vietnam conflict along lines set by President Johnson and followed by Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey, the leader for the Democratic presidential nomination.

As the issue came up, some delegates launched a tumult that finally ended when Chicago Mayor Richard J. Daley's proposal for an adjournment until 1 p.m., EDT today was accepted.

Fueling the fight was a determined effort by some delegates to stop Humphrey from gaining the nomination.

A minority report calling for an unconditional bombing halt of North Vietnam is widely supported by followers of Humphrey's major opponents, Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy and George S. McGovern, as well as backers of noncandidate Sen. Edward M. Kennedy.

Supporters of the minority report were elated by the sudden adjournment.

Frank Mankiewicz, press spokesman for McGovern, stood on a chair and shouted, "We have 11 hours to get 80 votes."

He claimed backers of the immediate bombing halt were short only that number of the 1,312 votes needed to carry their point.

When Chairman Hale Rogers of the Platform Committee began reading the majority plank he was interrupted by loud handclapping that began in the Wisconsin delegation and spread to some of the jam-packed floor and galleries.

Scott Will Look Into Allegations

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — State Police Director Ralph Scott says he is planning to look into allegations by Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller that he has failed to remove politics from his department.

Rockefeller said Friday the department was still involved in politics, despite a previous statement by Scott that he had succeeded in taking the department out of politics.

Scott said Monday he was not upset at Rockefeller's statement. He said he "was flattered by his kind remarks and weighed that against his time-pled criticism." Rockefeller had said Scott had done a commendable job, and that he wasn't blaming him.

Rockefeller said that in one instance a state trooper told a driver he would overlook a traffic violation if the driver would remove a Rockefeller bumper sticker from the car.

Scott said it was the first he had heard of the bumper sticker allegation and that he was "somewhat surprised, frankly," at the remark.

"You can be sure each allegation will be fairly investigated," Scott said. He said he planned to meet with the governor about some other matters this week.

"I feel sure whatever information he has, he'll bring to my attention at that time," he said. Scott also said he had issued a directive calling for the summary dismissal of any State Police employee involved in any political activity.

Walker Kids Are in Worm Business

GASTONIA, N.C. (AP) — The five Walker children are in the plastic worm business this summer and their fisherman-father is proud of the struggling—if unprofitable—family business.

Dr. W. W. "Chuck" Walker, an orthodontist and a fisherman, explained:

"So many kids are out on the streets with nothing to do these days. They throw bottles and break glass and get into trouble."

"When my kids are home here, making money, I know they're making money, and are not out on the streets getting into trouble."

The Walker Brothers Bait Co. consists of Sam, 7, twins Bob and Jim 10, and Woody, 15, with a healthy assist from sister Karen, 17.

They make a four-inch green plastic worm developed by their father. Dr. Walker claims a loss of $800 so far—but the kids make some spending money.

"I buy bubble gum and go bowling," said 7-year-old Sam, who just works when the spirit moves him.

Fifteen-year-old Woody is the top worm maker. He has earned $75 and hopes to buy a surfboard.

The Walker youngsters began by molding the plastic worms on the kitchen stove. Before long however, Mrs. Walker sent them to the basement with a hot plate.

"It was a little too much to cook beans and plastic worms on the same stove," she said. "The plastic is not very nice smelling and it leaves a film on the windows."

Their customers say the green plastic worms are now a favorite of bass at nearby Lake Norman.
